Adlington Town Council supports the Fair Trade Movement

You Said...We Did...

You said – We are concerned about the amount of asbestos debris around the village following the Fairport fire - We have checked with Chorley Council and despite differences between the site owners and their insurers the work to clear the debris is continuing seven days a week. Any further serious concerns should be reported to Chorley Council.

You said – We are concerned about the fading road markings and lights on the pedestrian crossings, and mini roundabouts on Market Street, between the White Bear public house and The Retreat Restaurant – We contacted the Highways department and the lights on both crossings have been cleaned and the lighting improved. The road markings are also being repainted at our request.

You said – We are concerned about the amount of dog fouling on the streets – We have asked for the yellow pavement signs "no dog fouling" to be repainted around the village, this has already been completed in some areas. We are asking all dog owners to act responsibly and clear up after their own pets.

You said – We are concerned about the proposed reduction in opening hours of the Household Waste Recycling sites and the amount of litter around the village – we have responded to Lancashire County Council stating that the reduction in opening hours is regrettable and disappointing in an age where recycling is growing in importance and that proposed changes will not allow working residents access to the sites before or after work – we have asked them to consider more flexible options.

In order to protect our own environment and the areas where we live we also ask all residents to recycle as much as possible and to encourage all members of their families to take their litter home. A proposal for a "community litter pick" will be considered at the next Town Council Meeting.

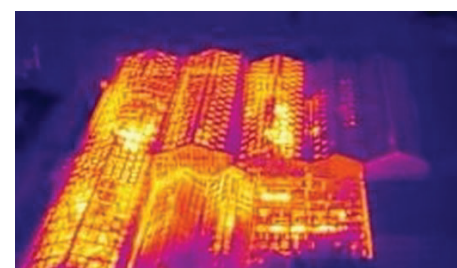

You Said – We are concerned about the continuing poor rail services to the village – we have had lengthy correspondence to and from Northern Rail and discussions including an open forum with residents at our January and February Town Council Meetings. We have sent the following question to County Councillor Kim Snape to submit to the relevant cabinet members before the next full County Council meeting "After many years of disruption in Adlington village and promises of a golden future of rail travel, when will Adlington commuters receive an enhanced and improved service and additional scheduled rail services at Adlington Station?"

Fairport Engineering Fire

Many residents were affected by the large fire which started during the night in early February, with several families being temporarily evacuated from their homes. The Town Council would like to thank the Bridge Inn for giving shelter to these residents at short notice, the Marina Cafe for providing refreshments for the firefighters, the Salvation Army and St Paul's Church for setting up a pop-up cafe for those affected, and all the individual residents who provided supplies and support and showed a wonderful level of community spirit.

Well done girls, we're really proud of you!

Our congratulations go to 4 girls from the 2nd Adlington St Paul's Guides who were presented with their Baden Powell certificates and badges following lots of hard work and their attendance at the Baden Powell Challenge Weekend. Milly Cornes, Amelie Moran, Ellie Porter and Isabelle Hemming have done an absolutely amazing job completing 10 challenges to receive the highest award available in Girl Guiding. The District Commissioner sent her personal congratulations to the girls and to their Guide Leader Katie-Louise and all the other leaders who have helped them achieve this goal. Katie-Louise said "I couldn't be prouder! 5 different leaders stopped me (at the weekend) to tell me how impressed they were with my girlsyou make me speechlessYou are true inspirations to our younger girls and I am immensely proud" Well done to you all

St Paul's Roof Repairs Fundraiser

There will be a fundraising quiz night in St Pauls Church Club on Saturday 27 April commencing at 7.30 pm (doors open 7 pm). The cost is £5 per person. Although you only need to pay at the door on the night increasing numbers over the last year or two mean that this year people are asked to signify in advance that they intend coming, so that we don't exceed safety limits. This can be done by ringing Thomas Leeming on 01257 482471 no later than Sunday 21 April. Proceeds from the event will go to the roof repair fund at St Pauls Church. There will be a raffle and supper will be available. All are welcome.

Adlington wartime casualties

Much has been written over the years about the servicemen from the Borough during the two world wars and even though I've always tried to be inclusive of all those who served and highlight that women from our community served as well, their involvement is often forgotten. Women served in a number of branches of the armed forces and also with civilian organisations in a supporting capacity. Amongst other groups, during the lead up to World War Two the British Government remobilised the Women's Land Army. Their task was to fill the void in agricultural employment when the bulk of the male population embarked for war. Work included dairy production, tractor driving and pest control. A few women from Chorley borough lost their lives during the two world wars and are listed on local war memorials. I have recently come across a Chorley Guardian article from 1943 which mentions another young lady who lost her life whilst on war service but she is not named on any memorial.

Elsie Rawlinson was the daughter of Fred and Sarah and was born on 5th May 1924. In 1939 the family was living at 3 Grimeford Lane, just outside of Adlington and she was a towel weaver. It was reported that Elsie died in September 1943 in Radnorshire, Wales after the tractor she was driving overturned. She was only 19 years old when she died and had been a member of Adlington Parish Church and the Girl Guides. As we have just gone over the 75th anniversary of her death as a result of war service I would very much like to hear from any surviving family. Whilst she may not be seen as an official war casualty, but for the war she would not have lost her life in such tragic circumstances, and so I would like to see to it that she is appropriately remembered from now on.

If anyone has any further information I can be messaged on email at saclewlow@yahoo.com or on Twitter @StuartAClelow

Friends of Adlington Library

Friends of Adlington Library (FoAL) continues to go from strength to strength with lots of events and ideas in the pipeline. The talks and courses held by FoAL have been very popular especially the talk about Dick Kerr Ladies by Gail Newsham. Some of the events planned are, a Model Railway and Model Building making on 31st May during the school half term, and a Fashion Show on 28th June with clothes supplied by the St Catherine's Hospice Shop. A number of new items have been purchased by FoAL for Adlington Library. These include new shelving, plug sockets, blinds, display cabinets, LEGO and a large number of craft items. FoAL also continue to help the Librarians with the Library-run events, some of which have been extremely popular. One plan which FoAL are trying to get off the ground is a Community Cinema and film making project. Updates will be given as this comes together. 2019 marks 55 years since Adlington Library was opened to the public, so to celebrate this anniversary it is hoped that more residents of Adlington and District will come along and join the library. Thank you to everyone for their continued support of Friends of Adlington Library.
